

TUESDAY..... NOVEMBER 24, 1885.

AT THE CAPITAL.

Preparations for the Coming Session of Congress.

A Washington dispatch says: preparations are being carried on rapidly at the Capitol for the coming session of Congress, and quite a number of workmen are engaged on it. The walls, both exterior and interior, have been cleaned and repaired where it was necessary. In the House of Representatives carpets have been put down and the desks of the members are being arranged. The Speaker's and Clerk's desks are being covered with new blue cloth, and the gilt work of the walls is being retouched. Speaker Carlisle, assuming that he will be re-elected, is already engaged in making up a list of committees for the next session of the House, so that there will not be any delay in the organization of that body. The principal committees, however, will not be formed until the question of revision of the rules has been decided upon. The contest over the minor offices of the House will be more active than has been expected, as several new candidates have appeared for the offices of Sergeant-at-Arms and Doorkeeper. W. W. Armstrong, editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, comes out as a candidate for Sergeant-at-Arms, and it is said to have quietly secured the support of the Ohio delegation in opposition to Mr. Leedom, the present incumbent. Mr. Armstrong has been for many years the Ohio member of the National Democratic Committee, and is not only an active gentleman but unusually influential, and if he decides to make the fight he will undoubtedly be elected. It is now generally understood that the celebrated Higgins, Appointment Clerk of the Treasury Department, will enter the list for Doorkeeper on an Anti-Civil Service Reform platform. Mr. Higgins will be relieved from his position in the Treasury Department, which he has ornamented so long, at the end of the present month, his successor having already been chosen and is now under instruction as to the duties which he is required to perform. Mr. Higgins asks the support of anti-civil service reformers as a reward for the heroic position he has taken and the abuse he has endured.

The Carson Appeal says:

The Appeal knows of a man, right here in Carson, who has owed the County Central Committee his assessment for over four years. He was elected Senator, spent most of his time in the East during the session, and after drawing several hundred dollars from the State for doing nothing, still refuses to settle with the Central Committee, and as a result the Committee had to cut down the price they agreed to give the papers.

In the next campaign the Republican papers of this State will not insert a man's name in the ticket until he pays his assessment, and will make an example of these political dead-beats.

The First Auditor of the Treasury has disallowed two months' pay of the Governor of Alaska, on the ground that his pay did not commence until he entered upon the actual discharge of his duties. The two months for which pay has been disallowed were occupied in going to Alaska.

It will not do for the New York Mug-wumps to say that the election in that State was lost by the radical speeches of Logan and Foraker, for the returns show that wherever they spoke an increase of the Republican vote is to be seen.

Major R. P. Hammond, Jr., of San Francisco, has been appointed U. S. Surveyor-General of California, and will assume the discharge of the duties of his office at the beginning of the calendar year.

A prominent resident of Reno has offered to bet that the next U. S. Senator will be J. G. Fair or C. C. Powning.—Carson Free Lance.

The Eureka Sentinel says:

The universal sentiment of the State appears to be, a Nevada man for the United States Senate.

A CONSUL WHO WAS NOT A CITIZEN.

The curious discovery has been made at the State Department that Mr. Chas. Foster, of Indianapolis, who has taken the oath of office and sailed for Europe to enter upon his duties as Consul at Elberfeld, Germany, was not a citizen of the United States when he took the oath and that it will be necessary to recall him. It is said at the State Department that when the clerk having charge of the matter, administered the oath to him, Mr. Foster was asked the usual question whether or not he was a citizen of the United States and he answered promptly that he was. But the State Department in all such cases requires absolute proof, and Mr. Foster was requested to forward his naturalization papers. They have recently arrived, and from them it appears that his naturalization dates only from November 4, 1885. He was, therefore, when sworn in, not a citizen of the United States.

THE PRESIDENT'S FORTHCOMING MESSAGE.

The President's message is substantially completed in its most important parts. One question, on which he is likely to disagree with the Democratic majority in the House, is the proposed suspension of silver coinage and the equalization of the silver with the gold dollar. It is known that he adheres to the policy of his letter, addressed to Bland, Warner and Regan, on the 27th of February, 1885, and is prepared to enforce the arguments then used by the experience of the Treasury Department during the last six months. On an up-and-down vote to repeal the Bland Act, pure and simple, there is a known majority against that proposition.

REGULATING VISITS TO THE WHITE HOUSE.

White House employees say that the report that the President's order excluding office-seekers will be revoked after December first is ill-founded. The order on its face stated that it applies only to November. At the end of this month another order will be issued. This order, it is said, will also exclude office-seekers, or limit them to very little time, but will be more liberal as to Senators and Representatives. The President does not deem it proper to restrict the visits of the latter while Congress is in session, or to decline to hear their views on any subject which they may desire to submit.

IMPUDENCE OF CLAIM AGENTS.

There is no limit to the ingenuity of claim agents. The attention of the Post-office authorities has been called to the fact that a firm is mailing circulars to ex-Confederate soldiers informing them that all who were pressed into the Confederate service have a claim against the United States. The impudent argument is used that it is the duty of the United States to protect its citizens at home and abroad, and that, having failed to do this in the South during the war, those who were conscripted into the Confederate army have a claim against the United States for pay for the time which they served.

DEATH OF A JOURNALIST.

Lauren Upson, Sr., who was editor of the Sacramento Union from 1852 to 1865, died in Stockton Friday night, aged about 78 years.

Previous to coming to this coast the deceased was editor of the Mobile (Ala.) Advertiser.

Quite a number of years ago his brain gave way beneath the strain of overwork and it was found necessary to take him to the Stockton Asylum, where he remained up to the time of his death. He leaves a wife, two daughters and two sons.

THE AUSTRIAN MISSION.

A Washington special says: Since the Keiley episode our diplomatic relations with Austria have been practically cut off. The Austrian Minister, who has not been in this country for some time, has been retired, upon the grounds that having been in diplomatic service for forty-two years he is disqualified for further service. This leaves the mission vacant, and the Austrian Government has signified it will remain so until the United States sees fit to appoint a Minister to succeed Keiley, whom they rejected.

THE SENATORSHIP.

The Lyon Co. Times, of the 21st, says:

The papers keep right on talking about the Senatorial proposition just as though it was all going to be settled according to their predictions. Fair, of course, is the avowed candidate of the Democrats, and it is now said that ex-Senator Stewart is in the ring to stay with the Republicans. Stewart is a good man for the office—probably as good a man as the Republicans can find, but as this journal has remarked before, the Republican nominee whoever he may be has got to have the strongest kind of backing to get away with Jim Fair's sack. Outside of Stewart there are a dozen or more men in the State who could beat Fair very easily if they only had the coin. It is all very well for people to say "let us have a man from the State to represent us;" but how are we going to get him. Most Nevadans are well enough acquainted with the politics of their own State to know that it is "money that makes the mare go." Then what is the use in making such a fuss about "importing" a man for the position? Is not Fair an "imported" man, and a poor one at that? Let the Republicans work together, select the choice of the majority and the others stand in if they are not exactly satisfied. This is the only way to do the business up brown. Nevada is a Republican State, then let the people elect a Republican to Jim Fair's seat in the Senate from now on.

ILLEGALLY ENCLOSED PUBLIC LANDS.

Reports from the special agents of the Government Land Office indicate that little or no attention was paid by cattlemen who illegally enclosed public lands to the President's message of last summer, commanding the removal of their fences. Commissioner Sparks has sent about forty letters to the Secretary of the Interior, each letter specifying and describing an illegal enclosure of the public land, giving the name of the holder or holders of each, and recommending that the matter be brought to the attention of the Attorney-General with the view of instituting civil and criminal proceedings for trespass against the offenders. Commissioner Sparks also recommends that these cases be laid before the President with the request that he exercise the authority conferred upon him by Congress in the matter. The act of Congress confers the power to make use of the military to secure the removal of these unlawful fences.

Thus speaks the Tuscarora Times-Review of the 18th: "If the United States Senate or Nevada desire to adopt the English or French custom, well and good. Let it be so understood. So long, however, as the residence theory is pretended, let us carry it out in practice or else candidly admit that our State has not a resident fitted to represent us in the United States Senate." This humiliating admission has been made several times in the past. Will it be repeated.—Carson Free Lance.

THE EUREKA SENTINEL SAYS:

Some of the papers of the State have, with considerable sarcasm, spoken of James G. Blaine probably coming forward as a successor to Senator Fair as a representative of Nevada in the United States Senate. Mr. Blaine is really more entitled to the seat than some who have been mentioned as candidates. He has interests in three mines in Eastern Nevada.

Leland Stanford will be the Pacific Coast candidate for President before the next National Republican Convention. He is a big-minded, big-hearted man and his nomination would create genuine enthusiasm.—Free Lance.

Senator Wm. Mahone, of Virginia, is going to Dakota to live. If he doesn't like it there he may come to Nevada.—Free Lance.

Gen. R. M. Clarke would not object to going to Washington as Senator Fair's successor.—Free Lance.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

BREVITIES

D. A. Bender came down from Carson last night.

Sept. Lon Hamilton was a passenger for the Bay last night.

C. C. Stevenson was a passenger for Southern California Sunday night.

C. H. Stoddard, of Legislative fame, departed for the Bay Sunday night.

T. G. Herman and G. W. Sawyer were up from Wadsworth yesterday.

Eugene Dewey, a New York broker, was a west-bound passenger last night.

The weather prophets are prognosticating a snow storm as the next phase of the weather.

Congressman Woodburn will pass through Reno this morning on his way to Washington.

Father Maloney will leave for Susanville this morning. He will preach at that place next Sunday.

Geo. W. Chedic, of Carson, who has been East on Lodge business, returned on last night's overland.

G. W. Smith, formerly of Reno, has a blacksmith and shoeing shop at 909 Washington street, San Francisco.

There is talk of starting a debating club in Carson. The first subject, says the Appeal, will be, "What shall we do with the town?"

Harvey Carpenter, United States Land Receiver of Eureka district, has resigned. It is understood that the vacancy will be filled by the appointment of Col. W. O. Mills.

The demand for carp has become so extensive that the United States Fish Commission has sent supplies to 95 per cent. of the Congressional districts in the country, and about half the counties.

Governor Adams left for California last Thursday. The Free Lance says Lieutenant Governor Laughton being Acting Governor, it was suggested that he might take occasion to approve the new bond recently offered by the ex-officio State Librarian.

Roll of Honor.

Following is the Roll of Honor of Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls for month ending November 18th:

Advertised Letters.

The following is the list of letters un-called for in the Reno, Nevada, Post-office, November 21, 1885:

Atwood, Chas Borward, Francis Campbell, Thos. Campbell, J. B. Bennys, M. L. 2 Freger, John Hall, J. G. Kinney, Kate Marchand, Geo Morgan, Wm Naphate, Louis Porter, Dr J Pierce, John Raine, Kate Slaven, Kate Strieff, Emile Summer, James Walker, B Wentworth, John Wilson, Mrs J ORLANDO EVANS, F. M.

District Court.

The District Court was engaged yesterday on the Antelope mine case, which involves the payment of keepers fees.

The Grand Jury met at 10 o'clock, found a bill of indictment for burglary against Emmet Jones, and William Bryant, made a final report and was discharged for the term.

THE STATE LIBRARIANSHIP.

Lieutenant Governor Laughton's New Bond.

The following correspondence between Lieutenant-Governor Laughton and Governor Adams explains itself:

State of Nevada, Lieutenant-Governor's office, Carson, November 16, 1885.

Hon. J. W. Adams, Governor of Nevada. Sir:—The ex-officio office of State Librarian has been declared vacant, by a decision of the Supreme Court of this State, by and thro' a failure on my part to keep and maintain my official bond as required by law. An ad-interim appointment has been made by Your Excellency, filling this ex-officio office. I now desire to again qualify for this ex-officio duty by giving a new and sufficient bond—as provided by Chapter XXXIII of Statutes of 1883, which makes the performance of the duties of this ex-officio office mandatory upon the Lieutenant-Governor. To this end I hand you the enclosed bond with sureties, whose responsibility I am quite sure, cannot be questioned; and I respectfully ask that immediate action be taken by Your Excellency in respect to the approval of same. I am, dear Sir,

Your Ob't Servt,

CHAS. E. LAUGHTON,
Lieut. Governor, Nevada.

To this the Governor replied;

Executive Department, Governor's Office, Carson, Nov. 17th, 1885.

Hon. Chas. E. Laughton, Lieutenant-Governor of the State of Nevada. Sir:—In reply to your communication of the 16th inst. requesting me, in my official capacity, to approve an instrument purporting to be a bond conditional in the faithful performance of your duty as ex-officio State Librarian; I will say that the Supreme Court decided that you forfeited and vacated the office of State Librarian, and rendered a final judgment of ouster against you, and the proper authority appointed a person to fill the vacancy, who has qualified and entered on the duties of his office, and is now State Librarian. I must respectfully decline to approve or accept, and herewith return to you, the bond delivered in my office purporting to be the bond of the Lieutenant-Governor as State Librarian. I have the honor to remain, respectfully,

Nevada's Taxable Property.

The Carson Free Lance says:

Returns of taxable property from the different counties for the year 1885, have been made to the State Controller. Here are the figures:

Churchill.....	$ 543,576 15
Douglas.....	737,932 00
Elko.....	4,109,013 00
Esmeralda.....	1,137,571 00
Eureka.....	2,742,707 70
Humboldt.....	3,311,646 20
Lander.....	1,822,615 55
Lincoln.....	410,571 00
Lyon.....	1,406,753 00
Nye.....	529,180 00
Ormsby.....	1,736,671 00
Storey.....	2,569,370 00
Washoe.....	4,283,555 00
White Pine.....	839,575 41

Total..... $26,247,038 21

A few changes may be caused in some of the counties on account of additional personal property taxes to be collected.

Although there has been considerable talk of dull times during the past year the decrease of property since the last assessment has been only $349,723 02. The returns for 1884 are given below:

Churchill.....	$ 535,563 00
Douglas.....	705,425 00
Elko.....	3,884,504 00
Esmeralda.....	1,158,365 00
Eureka.....	3,112,238 70
Humboldt.....	3,209,960 95
Lander.....	1,872,369 88
Lincoln.....	506,837 00
Lyon.....	1,298,900 00
Nye.....	617,404 00
Ormsby.....	1,800,762 00
Storey.....	2,879,054 50
Washoe.....	4,171,045 00
White Pine.....	814,870 00

Total..... $26,597,299 03

The receipts from poll taxes will be about $17,000 this year, and to this may be added receipts from drummers' licenses and other sources. It is estimated by State Controller Hallock that the receipts this year will be greater than the expenditures.

State Lands.

During the week ending last Saturday applications for lands aggregating 600 acres, 280 at $2 50 and 320 at $1 25, were filed in the State Land Office. The office force is busy substituting 6 for 10 per cent. contracts under the new law.

THE STATE TREASURY.

The Carson Free Lance says:

Once a month the Board take an inventory of the contents of the State Treasury, as by law required. They did this on the 29th of October, 1885, and found $103,655 30 in coin and currency, which represents the amount of cash. The $28,478 10 of paid vouchers not returned to the Controller, were simply receipts for money paid out. In addition, the Board reports on hand "State School Fund and Securities" as follows:

Irredeemable Nev. State School Bond.....	$380,000
Nevada State Bonds.....	120,000
United States Bonds.....	300,000

A few days later the State borrowed $20,000 from the University Fund, which is another way of saying that the Regents of the State University invested $20,000 in Nevada State bonds, bearing interest at the rate of 4 per cent. a year. This latter transaction called forth the articles of the Silver State and Index. In order to explain why it was necessary to borrow the $20,000 the following statement of the condition of the State Treasury on the 29th of last month, prepared by Controller Hallock, is here presented:

Cash in Treasury.....	$103,655 30
Outstanding Warrants.....	7,935 22

Net cash in Treasury..... $95,720 08

Which was appropriated as follows:

State School Fund.....	$29,336 60
General School Fund.....	6,171 13
Insane Int. and Sinking Fund.....	176 93
State Library Fund.....	1,072 23
University Fund—90,000 acre grant.....	26,381 13
Interest account—90,000 acre grant.....	11,280 65
State University Fund.....	10,990 98
Contingent University Fund.....	3,663 88
Money to credit of counties.....	6,646 55

Net cash in Treasury..... $95,720 08

It will be seen by the above that there was not a dollar in the General Fund with which to pay current expenses, and the $20,000 was borrowed from the University Fund under authority of the law of 1881 (Statutes of 1881, page 87) which provides:

"For the purpose of keeping the State on a cash basis, without resorting to an onerous rate of taxation, the sum of $220,000 is hereby authorized to be borrowed from the following Educational Funds in the State Treasury for the use and benefit of the General Fund of the State, viz.: The State School Fund, the State University Fund, and the State University Fund, 90,000-Acre Grant, (so called). Said loan to bear interest at 4 per cent. per annum, and shall be payable any time within ten years from the passage of this Act."

The above will explain why the State borrowed $20,000 from the School Fund last month.

Lyon County Agricultural Association.

In conformity with the Act of the last Legislature the Lyon County Agricultural Association has been formed, and Governor Adams has appointed W. J. Westerfield, J. Vail, Daniel Simpson, James Downey, Sol Noel, James Nichols, W. H. Spragg, and J. O. Birmingham as the Directors.

W. Sanders and wife returned home from their Eastern trip last Saturday evening. They report having had a delightful visit among relatives and friends. Glad to see them home again.
